The Data Foundation is committed to providing a safe and healthy environment for all RegTech Data Summit participants and staff. While the Data Foundation cannot guarantee that attendees will not become infected with COVID-19. The Data Foundation has adopted preventative measures to reduce the potential spread of the COVID-19 virus at our RegTech Data Summit in accordance with guidance provided by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and Convene. In addition, The Data Foundation will comply with all applicable requirements imposed by federal, state, or local health authorities for the District of Columbia. However, the responsibility for a safe and healthy event environment is shared among the event organizers, event venues, and event attendees. Towards this end, all conference attendees are expected to also comply with all applicable requirements imposed by federal, state, or local health authorities for the locality in which the conference is taking place, and in addition to our code of conduct, they are expected to adhere to and abide by the safety precautions The Data Foundation has implemented to protect against the spread of COVID-19 such as social distancing where applicable, personal hygiene and hand sanitization, self-monitoring and self-reporting. These precautions are outlined in further detail below.

You should not attend the RegTech Data Summit if you are experiencing, or within the 10 days prior to the conference or event, have experienced signs and symptoms of COVID-19. You also should not attend the RegTech Data Summit if you believe that you may have been exposed to a confirmed or suspected case of COVID-19 or have been diagnosed with COVID-19 and are not yet cleared as non-contagious by state or local public health authorities or the health care team responsible for your treatment.

In addition, conference attendees should self-monitor for signs and symptoms of COVID-19 and are asked to contact The Data Foundation at info@datafoundation.org if they experience symptoms of COVID-19 within 10 days after participating in the RegTech Data Summit. Any private health or personal data that may be received by The Data Foundation in connection with such measures and precautions will be treated as confidentially as possible.

The event venue, Convene, requires proof of vaccination for all attendees and staff. Upon arrival at the venue's welcome desk a Convene member will request ID and proof of vaccination (either the physical vaccination card, a digital card or a picture of the card). On site, The Data Foundation requests that all conference attendees regularly and thoroughly wash or sanitize their hands throughout the day, observe social distancing guidelines where applicable, and wear masks. Disposable masks will be provided at the registration desk.

Please note that by registering to attend in-person, you agree to adhere to the precautions and policies contained herein and acknowledge and understand that you are knowingly and freely assuming all risks related to illness and infectious diseases, such as COVID-19, by attending this event. Further, you understand that refusal to adhere to these policies and abide by these precautions may result in immediate removal from the event and cancellation of the registration, without receiving a refund.
All Data Foundation policies, including those contained herein, are subject to change. Should changes be made, a notification will be sent to all registered attendees.
